Rockefeller-IPS Terrorist Networks Still In Place Awaiting Orders

July 10 (NSIPS) — Contrary to recent lies in the U.S. press to the effect that their own widespread reports of projected terrorist violence for the July 4 weekend were exaggerated, the U.S. Justice Department and the Institute for Policy Studies had all the machinery in place to create major terrorist incidents in the USA. Because of the Labor Party's vigorous international exposure campaign of Raskin's Institute, however, the conspirators determined that execution of their plans would boomerang against them, providing the Labor Party and honest law enforcement personnel with the political leverage to dismantle their operations. As a result, the terrorists have been temporarily neutralized. Although in itself not totally sufficient for stopping terrorism, this represents a major tactical defeat for the Rockefeller faction's insurrection against the U.S. Constitution.

Instead of a massive outbreak of terrorism in the U.S. which would have threatened the very foundations of Constitutional democracy, Institute for Policy Studies chief Marcus Raskin and Attorney General Edward Levi find themselves desperately trying to regain the momentum lost by the recent reversals. Only the totally contrived Uganda hijacking is providing some leverage for their campaign to establish a fascist police state.

In the U.S. itself, two terrorist incidents have occurred during the past week — in New England and California. In New England, however, the terrorists are under heavy attacks from State police in Massachusetts and Maine. In California, the total complicity of practically every top city, state and federal police official, has allowed the continuance of terrorist activity. Where pro-Constitutional police forces act to stop terrorism, it becomes possible to end it once and for all.

Two central factors contributed in preventing the much publicized threats of "nuclear terrorism" and waves of bombings and riots from being actualized. First, extensive exposure of the nature of the operation rendered the psychological climate within the population and key institutions unfit for launching the attacks. Second, several police departments acted on intelligence provided by the Labor Party, prompting extensive surveillance, and in certain instances preemptive measures, against terrorists.

Confirmation of this came in an interview with top U.S. military intelligence sources. One source stated that any terrorist activity, had it been launched in the scale projected, would have been "counterproductive," and that normal police methods — methods with which he firmly disagrees — were effective in deterring terrorist acts. The source reported that the psychological "edge is lost" and that it would take an incident of the magnitude of an oil embargo to reactivate terrorist operations.

Psychological Warfare, Police Intelligence and Police Methods

The psychological warfare campaign created by the Institute and the Rand Corporation and propagandized by the controlled press did not stimulate the environment of psychological terror within the population. The spate of articles on "nuclear terrorism," citing plutonium thefts from reactors and the scope of the terrorist operations internationally, did not take hold as the computer printouts had designed. Efforts to coerce the population psychologically into accepting fascist police state measures to "stop terrorism" failed. The psychological warfare operations failed in part because the covert nature of the operation was blown. Whenever a covert counterinsurgency operation becomes politically exposed before the general population over an extended period of time, then, should the operation proceed, the results will tend to produce the opposite of its intended effect — the coordinators of the operation will be identified by the targeted population as its main enemy.

At bottom, it was the mobilization launched by the Labor Party since the Glassboro Terrorism Conference last April 27, which put into motion working class forces against the terrorist controllers — Levi, Raskin, et al. — thereby providing President Ford and other pro-Constitutional forces with the crucial political leverage to prevent the total activation.

With the psychological warfare aims of Rockefeller significantly countered, political intelligence and evaluation work by Labor Party Security staff directly forced the next crucial question — reliability of intelligence. A major factional fight developed over a period of months within law enforcement agencies over both the reliability of their intelligence on terrorism and the "chain of command" responsibility for directing police actions against the countergangs and terrorists.

For example, in Philadelphia, the regular police force was not briefed by those who controlled and had access to the flow of information on the July 4 events. All intelligence was centralized in the Justice Department's Civil Disturbance Unit under Levi's personal man, Deputy Attorney General Harold Tyler. This is where the Treasury Department's ATF, the FBI ad Lieutenant George Fencel of the Philadelphia P.D.'s "Civil Disobedience Unit" receive and feed intelligence. If the Philadelphia police were receiving intelligence, it was misinformation. Necessarily, the police were compelled to depend upon the USLP to provide intelligence estimates and evaluation for the police to conduct their own investigations without the interference of some "higher authority." As the intelligence was checked, cross-checked, and verified by police departments throughout the country, extensive surveillance of known terrorists and groups which are known to harbor terrorists went into effect.

Another important aspect of police intelligence operations is leads — information that has yet to be developed into solid intelligence. After years of watching terrorists run rampant through this country, any serious and honest cop begins to discern a pattern. He instinctively suspects that such actions could "succeed" only if his superiors are somehow screwing up. What he lacks is an overall picture of these terrorist operations — a picture that will help him identify the nature of the beast. This has been provided by the Labor Party. As a result, the cop on the beat is better able to provide sound intelligence, simultaneously upgrading the overall function of a democratic police force by knowing how to create the conditions to act upon this intelligence. It was on this basis that the constitutionally aligned police acted upon Labor Party intelligence input and undercut the Justice Department-Institute-LEAA-trained police networks, whose methods are designed to facilitate the growth and continuance of terrorist activity.

To dismantle the terrorist networks altogether, however, identification of Levi and Raskin as their controllers is still required.

NSIPS Exclusive Translation from L'Europeo

"Another Pearl Harbor in the United States?"

June 10 (NSIPS) — The following box appeared in the News of the World section of the July 9 Italian magazine L'Europeo.

Back is the talk about nuclear terrorism, biological terrorism in the report on "International Terrorism" that the CIA has declassified in the last few days. According to the Agency, in the next few years, the terrorists will start to use from missiles to powerful modern weapons, and most of all biological and bacteriological systems. For example, they (the terrorists) could disseminate radioactive substances in a city, as they tried already in Vienna two years ago. Moreover, another "black" group told L'EUROPEO in France that a terrorist group was cultivating the possibility of contaminating the ballot boxes with biological substances and using the radio to broadcast news of the poisoned ballots. It is certain that such news, even if false, would terrorize many voters.

In any event, it is certain that American authorities are very much worried about terrorism to the point that in a press conference that took place in New York few days, some experts warned against the possibility of a new maybe nuclear Pearl Harbor by terrorists against an American city on the occasion of the Fourth of July Bicentennial celebrations. The CIA replied they are aware of it and that the CIA has a system of defense based in a computer named Iterite, with which it can constantly keep track of terrorist groups anywhere in the world. In the next days the computer will be fed information about the bigger American cities.
