LaRouches Address Moscow Anti-Globalist Conference

Dec. 4—The LaRouche Political Action Committee (LPAC) today released an address by Lyndon La-Rouche, which was delivered by video recording, to a Dec. 3-4 conference held in Moscow, Russia, under the title "Let the Earth Live! From the Clash of Civilizations to Their Cooperation." LaRouche's presentation had top billing in today's main proceedings, being scheduled for airing after introductory remarks from conference Organizing Committee chairman Sergei Baburin, rector of the Russian State University of Commerce and Economics, and former deputy speaker of the State Duma of the Russian Federation.

Following LaRouche's video, which was announced by the conference organizers under the title "Agreement Among Four Powers Can Avert Total Collapse," scheduled speakers were Natalia Vitrenko, chairman of the Progressive Socialist Party of Ukraine, and Gen. Leonid Ivashov, the former foreign relations head of the Russian Ministry of Defense, and current president of the Academy of Geopolitical Studies. On the conference as lead-off speaker in the afternoon session was Schiller Institute founder, and chairman of the German Civil Rights Solidarity Movement (BüSo), Helga Zepp-LaRouche.

The chief sponsors of this event are the Russian Anti-Globalist Resistance and Gen. Ivashov's Academy of Geopolitical Studies. The conference invitation was titled, "Save Human Dignity for the Sake of Mankind!" Other listed speakers include Tatyana Shishova, a leader of the Anti-Globalist Resistance, who is a teacher and an expert on the drug/counterculture degradation of children and the family, Deputy Minister of Information from the Moldovan Transdniestr Republic V. Rykovanova, and Borislav Milosevic, the younger brother of deceased Serbian leader Slobodan Milosevic.

'People of the Cosmos'

The participants, among whom are representatives of European "anti-globalist" layers who are virulently anti-American, were in for a shock from LaRouche's speech, in which the U.S. economist posed the common tasks of mankind, with the horizon goal of a successful

Mars colonization, making the human species into "no longer Earthlings," but "now people of the Universe or, as they say in Russia, the Cosmos." This can only be accomplished, LaRouche said, through the utter defeat of imperialist monetarism by sovereign nation-states, led by the Four-Power combination of Russia, China, India and, without fail, the United States.

Likewise, Helga Zepp-LaRouche warned that Europe could do nothing effective in today's world, and will not escape from the worsening financial and economic crisis, as long as it remains in the vise of the just-finalized EU Lisbon Treaty dictatorship.

A full transcript of LaRouche's address (recorded Nov. 18) and translation of the transcript of Zepp-La-Rouche's presentation (recorded Nov. 22) are provided here. The English and German originals, respectively, were voiced over in Russian for presentation to the conference and will be circulated on Russian-language Internet sites.
