

A Warning You Can't Afford To Ignore

On July 23, Lyndon LaRouche reiterated that the only way to guarantee that the world does not plunge into thermonuclear world war is by impeaching President Obama before September. LaRouche issued this statement in response to new revelations that the President is preparing to bypass the United Nations Security Council, and directly escalate the drive to overthrow the Syrian government of President Bashar al-Assad.

According to senior U.S. intelligence sources, the “humanitarian interventionists” inside the Obama Administration, led by Susan Rice and Samantha Power, are pressing for the U.S. to openly provide heavy weapons to the Syrian opposition, including anti-tank weapons. Such action would represent a direct provocation against Russia. President Vladimir Putin has repeatedly asserted his “Putin Doctrine” of absolute defense of the system of sovereign nation-states, built around the United Nations Security Council. A serious violation of the “Putin Doctrine,” he and his generals have warned, could lead to thermonuclear confrontation.

A flurry of news leaks over the weekend of July 20-22 confirms a major escalation in the Obama Administration assault on Syria, Russia, and China. The British puppet U.S. President is, of course, joined in his efforts by the British government, and the Empire’s leading allies in the region, specifically, Saudi Arabia and Qatar, who are openly pouring weapons and mercenaries into Syria in order to accelerate the process.

These same British, Persian Gulf, and Obama Administration forces have been moving in precisely this direction since the murder of Libyan President Muammar Qaddafi last Fall, but they have been consistently stymied by the Russians, Chinese, and, of utmost importance, the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff. EIR’s sources report that the Joint Chiefs, headed by Gen. Martin Dempsey, are still adamantly resisting the drive toward war in Syria, which they understand to be not only a direct provocation to Russia, but also a trigger for the worst kind of permanent religious warfare in the region.

The conflict between Obama and the Joint Chiefs has gotten so bad that some sources report that Obama is trying to find a way of removing Dempsey from his position. This, of course, is not a simple matter, but the intention has to be taken seriously indeed.

Nor is the Obama Administration’s intention toward Syria the only danger. The recent flare-up of threats against Iran, coming from the British-backed war faction in Israel, bespeak of the same intention to kick off a global war confrontation, in a desperate attempt by the Empire faction to save their power—which is otherwise threatened by the global Glass-Steagall push.

LaRouche declared July 23: “It is time to throw Obama out. Obama is committed to a Libya-style operation in Syria. He must be immediately impeached in the interest of world security. The threat of thermonuclear war, provoked by Obama’s actions against Syria, and, potentially Iran, cannot be ignored. Forget the little jerks who say that the threat of nuclear war is not serious.”

LaRouche added that there are “many impeachable crimes by Obama that could form the basis for his removal. It must happen before September, if we are going to assure that we avoid thermonuclear extinction.”
